

Everything you ever wanted to know about autism, but were afraid to ask.... Well almost!

Do you want to find out more about autism? Perhaps you have a colleague on the spectrum, or a family member who has just been diagnosed - or maybe you're just interested? Whatever the reason, why not book a place on our Autism course?

In all honesty, you won't learn absolutely everything there is to know about autism (there just isn't time in one day!), but this 1 day course aims to provide an introduction to the subject and explore ways to effectively support people on the spectrum:

Book onto a course
today

What is Autism?

We'll explain the areas that people with autism may struggle with - often called 'the triad of impairments' - but we'll also tell you the good stuff! We'll shatter some of the myths that are out there about autism and we'll give you a bit of theory to back it up!

Autism 'secrets'!

We'll explore some of the lesser known sensory and environmental issues faced by people on the spectrum, and how they may affect their behaviour - if you understand what's happening, perhaps you can help!

Communication

We'll look at ways you can help someone with autism to get their message across - and how you can make sure that they've understood you too!

Real life experience

You'll be able to ask those burning questions about autism to someone who really knows what it's all about, through first hand experience!

For dates, venues and booking information, visit the 'Training Programme' page at thesmartenterprise.co.uk

Email

training@thesmartenterprise.co.uk

Phone Laura on

07989500164

What some previous delegates thought:

'I will go away with lots of useful strategies & ideas to put into place at my service.'

'It's given me more confidence to work with autistic individuals.'

The Smart Enterprise
Highlighting the ability in disability